Coverage highlights

Award-winning professional liability solution

This solution has been built from the foundations of CFC's award-winning professional liability product. Despite conscientious risk management, a lawsuit can significantly impact a business' reputation, financial security, and damage client relationships.

CFC's professional liability product protects professional individuals and companies from actual or alleged errors, omissions, negligence, or failure to meet a standard of care when providing advice or services to clients.

Comprehensive professional liability cover

Full professional liability cover is available upon request for breach of contract, vicarious liability of subcontractors, intellectual property rights infringement, bodily injury and property damage, pollution liability, libel, slander and defamation, loss of documents and payment of withheld fees.

Unlimited retroactive cover

Traditional professional liability policies exclude any claims relating to services prior to the retroactive date. Our policy provides unlimited retroactive cover as standard. This gives the insured the best possible protection, especially considering the long tail exposure of these types of professions.
